

Color Glade Canvas

Wisps of color and charms of glee
All the while such is free
From dance of purple meeting daze of blue
All the while something is viewed
The lines and marks have made their trade
Such was the means of the glance
Brings the joining of both together
To illuminate the show of an artist's endeavor
It is she the one in the light
Her name is something to be remembered.

Lady Veethree of a color's delight.
